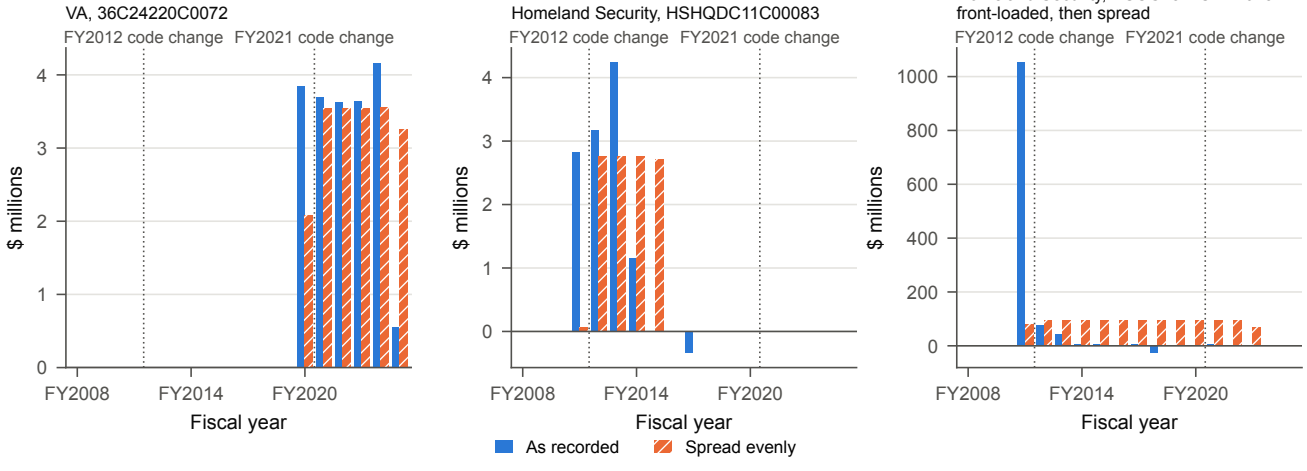
Spreading flattens lumpy contracts that start and end inside the data


Each contract's net by fiscal year, recorded in the year of each action against spread evenly over its span. Each panel has its own scale.