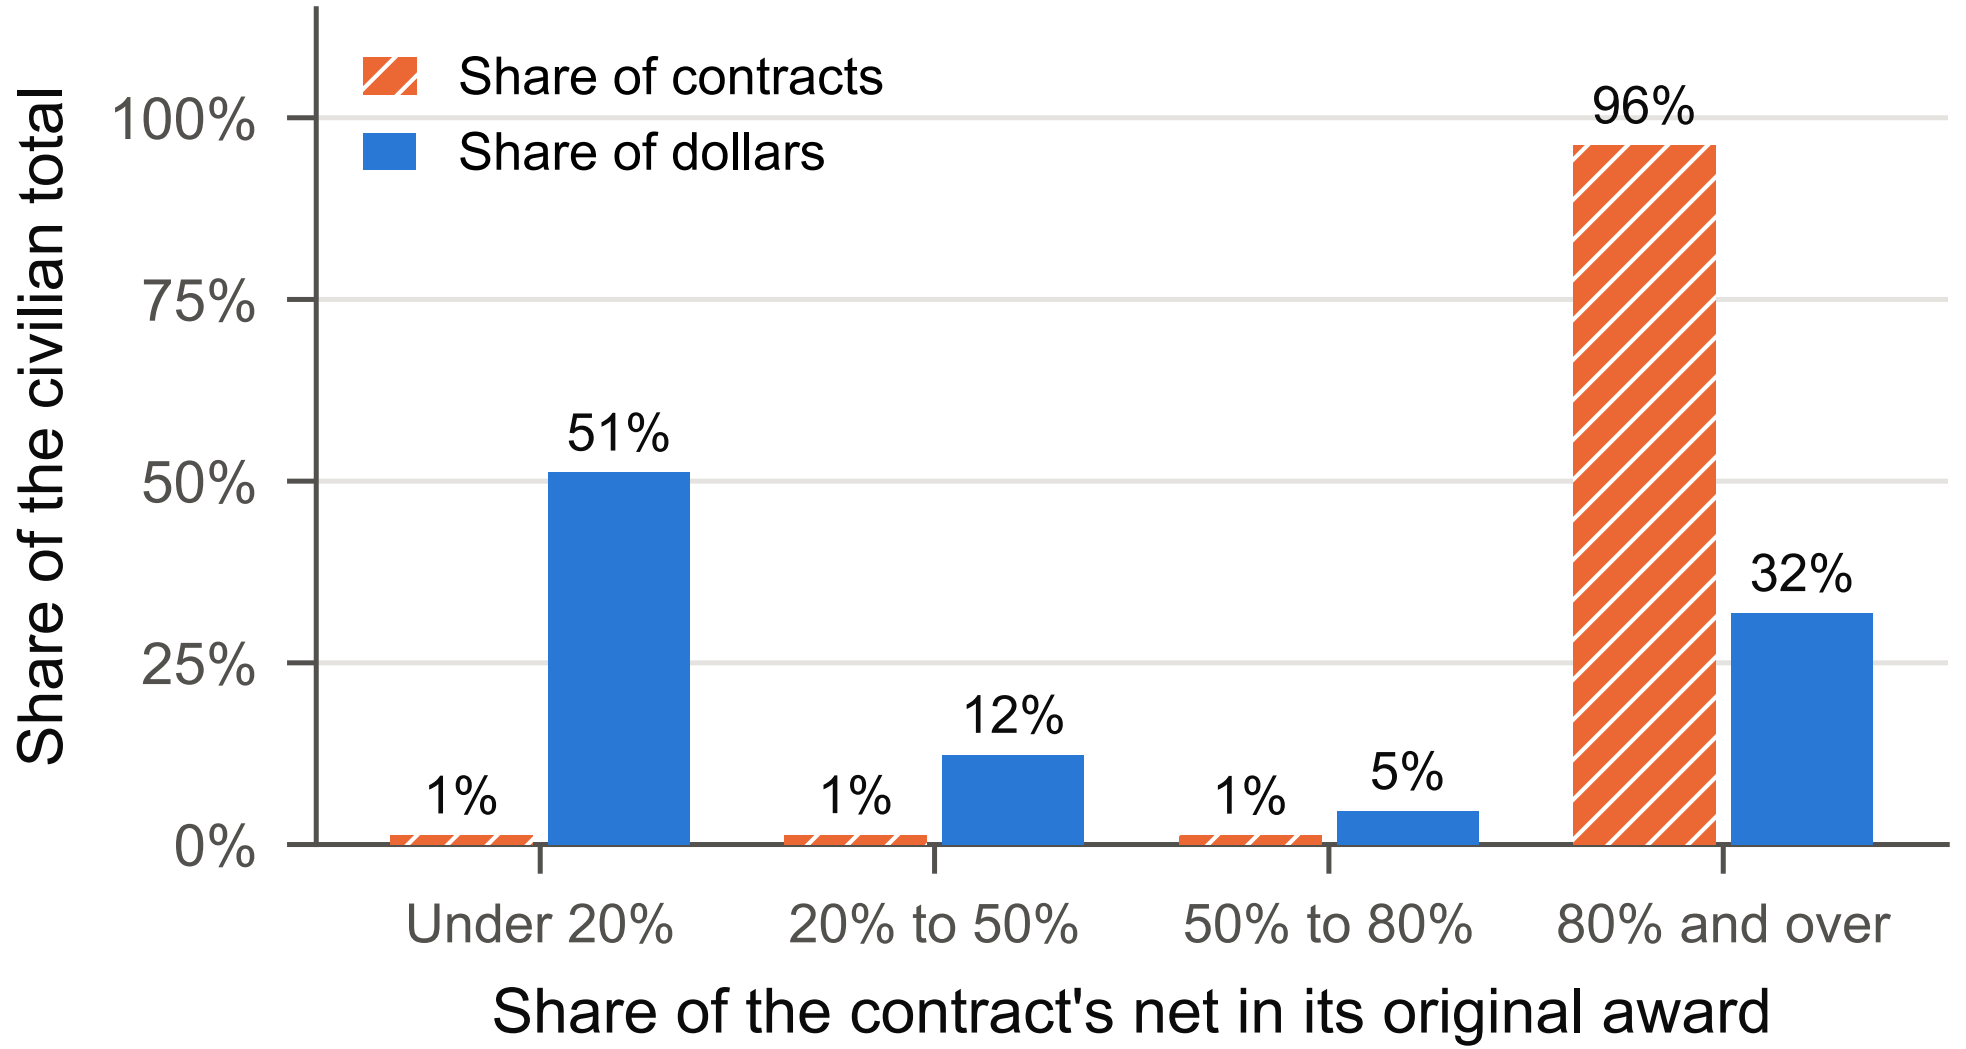
Most contracts get their money up front, but most dollars sit on contracts funded later


Civilian contracts with a positive net over all years.